ELECTRIC UNIT RETROFIT

#1 – Note that the electric baseboard heating unit has been installed in an elevated position above the wooden base molding. This is not unusual.

#2 – The electric baseboard heating unit with all snap-on face panels and covers removed in preparation for the Radiant Wraps retrofit.

#3 – Note the notch that is being cut into the wooden base molding to allow the new Radiant Wraps end cap to slip down along the wall and rest firmly on the floor.

#4 – Photo of the new Radiant Wraps section that has been slipped on over the existing electric unit.
